

Read your fertilizer labels
and choose
phosphorus-free.

Scan here to learn more:

Did you know that using too much phosphorus fertilizer can be harmful to the environment? Excess phosphorus flows from lawns into our local waterways and causes toxic algae growth that's harmful to people, pets, and aquatic life. So read your fertilizer label and choose one without phosphorus. Because too much phosphorus is preposterous.